Regis College brings the 500-year tradition of Jesuit education to the heart of the University of Toronto, one of the world's leading universities. We are located at a global epicenter of pure research, applied technology, trans-national business, intergovernmental politics and cultural expression. Regis College welcomes people from different backgrounds to discover theological education. Our programs prepare women and men, Jesuits and other religious, Canadian and international students for service as chaplains, professors, educators, parish assistants, spiritual guides, youth ministers, pastors, program coordinators, and justice advocates. Some students wish to enrich their established professional lives with the broad perspective of a theological education. Others seek a period of personal renewal after years of service, at a moment of career transition, or as they enter retirement. Our students are venturing on new pathways - come join us today.

Regis College Open House

A series of free mini-lectures presented by faculty will probe the breadth of the Catholic theological tradition, the depth of Ignatian spirituality, and the value of each in action for justice. Displays will introduce two centres located at Regis College: the Lupina Centre for Spirituality, Healthcare and Ethics and the Lonergan Research Institute. There will be opportunities to tour the College and have informal conversations with program directors and other faculty throughout the day. Don't miss out, pre-register soon!
